AMERICAN COTTON IS KING

The World Watches the Crop of the South---Manufactures and Growers Discuss Handling and Production.

Atlanta, Ga., Oct. 8.—Men who grow cotton and men who manufacture it into clothes and other goods for the markets of the world met in the state capitol Monday in the international conference of cotton growers and manufacturers. During the three days' session of the conference questions of the utmost importance to growers and consumers will be discussed and action is looked for that will radically change for the better methods of handling and growing the great staple of the south.

Fully five hundred delegates were present when President James H. MacColl of Providence, R. I., called the meeting to order, former President Arthur Kniffler of Vienna, Austria, and delegates from Great Britain, Germany, Belgium, France and Spain being in the audience.

President MacColl said in his opening address:

"One important object which those of us who are Americans, whether growers or spinners, have in view, is to determine to our European friends who consume two-thirds of the crop of the wonderful resources yet undevelan enormous saving in transportation and insurance, and enable the overburdened railroads to move more expeditiously the ever increasing crop.

"The proper marketing of cotton should be insisted upon. The cotton world needs a uniform bill of lading, which states authenticated facts regarding shipments and affords adequate protection to the owners of the cotton and the banks that help to finance the crop.

"I am heartily in sympathy with the report recently issued by a committee of the New York cotton exchange on the certification of cotton in southern warehouses and improved classification as to grade and staple. This would, in my opinion, tend to control speculation and at the same time make the New York contract more serviceable to spinners both as a hedge and for actual consumption."

Mr. MacColl urged that the most important thing that the conference could accomplish would be the formation of a permanent international organization of growers and spinners.

Dead Claim Deed Upheld.

Muskogee, I. T., Oct. 8.—A. A. Davidson, master in chancery for the western judicial district, has held in the Archie Tiger case that full-blood Indians can sell land which they have inherited without first securing the removal of restrictions. This is an important question in land titles. A full-blood Indian can not sell the land that is allotted to him for 25 years, but practically all of the inherited lands, generally known as dead claims, have been bought by white men. The attorney for Archie Tiger tried to have a deed to a dead claim to which Tiger was heir set aside on the theory that the Indian was not entitled to sell the inherited property.

ALLEN LANDS RAILROAD.

Enterprising Pontotoc Town Cinches the M. O. & G.

Our neighbor town of Allen, which bears the distinction of being the best inland town in the southwest, now has a railroad cinched.

Such is the news M. B. Donaghey brings back from Allen, where on Monday he co-operated in closing the deal with the M. O. & G. officials. In approaching Allen from Calvin the road as now projected, runs through Mr. Donaghey's farm for 1 3/4 miles, the right of way for which distance Mr. Donaghey donated.

It is settled, he says, that the depot will be located 1,800 feet north of the town's business center. This means the old town will not be moved, rumors to the contrary notwithstanding, and all of Allen's future taxable wealth will be within the boundaries of Pontotoc county.

As surveyed the line of this new road approaches no nearer than 12 miles to Ada. The officials are eager to reach Ada, says Mr. Donaghey, and hope to do so, but consider it impracticable save by means of a spur.

Today's Cotton Market.

New York spots 11.85, 5 points off; New Orleans 11 1/2 and unchanged. Futures: New York 3 to 5 points down; New Orleans 1 point down. Ada street prices 11.90 to 12 cents. Fair receipts.

Putting Up Heaters.

These frosty mornings are bringing out the heaters in great numbers. In many offices and stores fresh polished stoves and cherry fires were to be found this morning—and the fire didn't feel bad.

THE MAN WHO MAKES GOOD.

By John Anderson Jayne.

You may not be able to distinguish the man who makes good when he is walking down the street with thousands of his fellow citizens. But the moment you step into the office where he is employed, the factory in which he works, the church in which he preaches, or the bedside by which he practices, you recognize him at once.

He may be a little, insignificant-looking fellow, but there is a breezy manner about him that compels attention. He may weigh like Taft, but you forget his obesity in his ability to make the wheels go round. He has a swing and a step born of accomplishment. He is neither gay, gaudy nor garrulous. He is neither sleepy, sloppy nor slimy. He is manly, manly and methodical. He knows when where and why. He has the happy faculty of arriving at exactly the right time and place. When he lands he lands squarely, with both feet pointing forward.

The man who makes good is master of the situation! He is not compelled to ask privileges or make apologies in order to hold his position. He is not treated as an inferior by those who hold more responsible positions, paying larger salaries, for these men know that he is using the usual talents of mankind for the accomplishment of usual work. Unusual mental power, unused, does not equal usual mental power, used! The man who makes good never whines! He is never compelled to do the baby act or work the sympathetic racket.

His work speaks for itself. It is the testimony of the faithful fidelity of a conscientious worker.

The man who makes good is not content to rest on past accomplishment. Every act of making good is an incentive to further attempts in the same direction. The past, therefore, gives impetus in the present and strength for the days that are to come.

The man who makes good is always in demand. He need not worry about positions. If, through necessity, he must make a change, other men in the same line are only too glad to give him employment. There is only one class of people who should be compelled to hunt for work—those young men who have not yet had opportunity to make good and show their worth to employers who will appreciate their ability in the work that is congenial to their tastes.

The majority of men who knock from pillar to post are men who failed to make good in the days when the currents of life flowed swiftly in their veins.

Every once in a while you hear a man of sixty and upward called to the superintendency of some business establishment, or tendered a position where brains are required, rather than muscles. Such a call is a living witness to the truth. In the days of youth he made good.

When you hear of men complaining that they have no chance, explaining they are life's unfortunates, sitting down and letting children support them, you may hang it on your walls as a truth that they have wasted life, been querulous, insubordinate, impractical, or have not used their brains for the men for whom they worked in the days of opportunity. There is no necromancy about life! It proceeds on definite and prescribed rules, obeys laws and accomplishes practical results. He who obeys life's law need not fear long, cold, barren and unproductive years between sixty and eighty. Take time to study the lives of men who have not made good! You will find they failed to lay strong foundations of education, missed opportunities, and esteemed selfish interests and pleasure of more moment than employers' work. The man who makes good knows that his employer has a right to every minute of his time, his best work, his highest endeavor. He does not watch the clock! He does not dally! With him the greatest thing during the working hours is his employer's interest. The man who works in that spirit never fails to make good.

Special Days at the State Fair.

Among the special days to be at the fair, will be found one for the various organizations seeking a reunion date. Those decided upon are as follows:

Tuesday, October 8.—This is College day. On this day there will be a program arranged specially for the college visitors. Prof. A. C. Scott, president of the A. and M. College of Stillwater will deliver the address to the college people at the Music hall at 10:30 in the morning. There will be a football game in the afternoon between the Epworth university of Oklahoma

MEETING OF CITY COUNCIL

Taxes Levied for Another Year--7 1-2 Mills for the Schools---Printing Contract Awarded---Man Wants Franchise for a Sewerage System.

It took the city council a good while Monday night to get together, but when once a quorum was secured several important items of business were transacted.

Mayor Barton being out of town, Recorder Warren presided, and councilman Timberlake was, as usual elected recorder pro tem. After E. W. Hardin, the new alderman from the Fourth, was sworn in the aldermen present numbered six.

The report of the finance committee, which passed on favorably $575 worth of bills, was adopted.

The committee on printing, to which had been referred the competitive bids of Ada's two newspapers on the city printing for the coming year, reported, recommending that the bid of The News be accepted. Upon a vote of the council The News was awarded the contract with but one dissenting vote.

An ordinance levying city taxes for another year was passed to its second and third readings, and all opposition to the terms of the measure having been withdrawn the rules were suspended and by unanimous vote the ordinance was adopted. According to its provisions a levy of 5 mills is made for general purposes, 7 1-2 mills for the public schools, and 7 1-2 mills for the sinking fund.

It is a matter of regret to the council that it was impossible to grant more than 7 1-2 mills to the schools. Last year 10 mills were given them, the most liberal allowance for schools in our municipal history. But this year the new waterworks bonds have made an increase in the sinking fund imperative.

However, the school board think they will be able to get along with the 7 1-2 mills without seriously crippling the schools. They probably will have to borrow some money, but that can be done as it has been done before. At present the school debt is not large, and by another year, when all city real estate becomes taxable, the taxable values will be swollen up to near the two million point and all funds can more easily be provided for.

Again, the now notorious gunpowder and gasoline ordinance came up for consideration. It is thought the measure will pass at the next meeting.

A communication was read from an Oklahoma party who seeks a sewerage franchise in the city. He proposes in return for the franchise to donate at the end of fifteen years, the whole system to the city. A committee was charged with the duty of investigating the man and his proposition.

RAILROADS MAY HAVE TO PAY UP BACK TAXES

Muskogee, I. T., Oct. 8.—The department of the interior has scaled upon the railroads in Indian Territory for a statement of the number of miles of road they own that is subject to the annual tax of $15 per mile for passing through Indian lands.

This law was passed in order to create a sort of permit tax several years ago. Some of the railroads have paid the tax regularly and some have never paid a cent. It is supposed that under statehood the permit tax will be invalidated and a settlement in full is about due. Commissioner J. George Wright is gathering the data and has also asked the department for a legal opinion as to when the permit tax expires. Some of the railroads claim that it could not be legally collected after the Indians took their allotments. There are nearly 3,000 miles of railroad in Indian Territory.

Will Contest Davenport.

Muskogee, I. T., Oct. 8.—F. C. Hubbard, defeated by J. S. Davenport of Vinifera for congress has announced that he will contest Davenport before congress itself. Davenport is a democrat and his majority over Hubbard in the Third district was 2,143. Hubbard will not institute a contest in a single county but will attempt to make a showing before a republican congress which he thinks will give him the coveted place.

State Fair Train.

To accommodate the increased passenger traffic stimulated by the state fair now in progress at Oklahoma City, the M. K. & T. will put on an extra train Wednesday morning, and keep it on until the fair closes. It will leave Ada going north about 8 a. m.

If taken patiently and persistently will relieve the most obstinate cases of indigestion, constipation, bad blood, bad liver no matter how long standing. That's what Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea will do. 35 cents, Tea or Tablets.

G. M. RAMSEY.

Officers-Elect Will Confer.

Pontotoc county's officers-elect will meet in an informal conference at the court house in Ada Thursday morning, October 10.

The object of their coming together is to make some preliminary arrangements for the organization of the county government, so that with the coming of statehood and the passing of the old territorial regime, which may occur now most any old day, there may result neither hiatus nor confusion in the local governmental machinery.

Among the important things to consider are a temporary court house and office supplies for the various officers. Record books and official blanks will be a necessity from the very start, therefore it was wise to arrange for these at once—such stuff can not be created in a moment.

Will Not Disturb Returns.

Muskogee, I. T., Oct. 8.—Judge W. R. Lawrence sustained a demurrer to the action brought by the defeated republican candidates of Muskogee county, asking a writ of mandamus to force the county election commissioners to recount the vote in this county, thus giving all county offices to democrats.

Ordinance No. 134.

An ordinance levying taxes for various purposes for the City of Ada, Ind. Ter., for the year 1907.

Be it ordained by the City Council of the City of Ada, Ind. Ter.

Section 1. That an ad valorem tax of five mills on the dollar be levied upon all property subject to taxation in the City of Ada, Ind. Ter., for general purposes for the year 1907.

Section 2. That an ad valorem tax of seven and one-half mills on the dollar be levied upon all property subject to taxation in the City of Ada, Ind. Ter., for school purposes for the year 1907.

Section 3. That an ad valorem tax of seven and one-half mills on the dollar be levied upon all property, subject to taxation in the City of Ada, Ind. Ter., for the purpose of paying the interest on and creating a proper sinking fund for the redemption of the bonded indebtedness of the City of Ada, Ind. Ter., for the year 1907.

Section 4. That this Ordinance be in full force and effect from and after its passage, approval and publication. Passed and approved this 7th day of October, 1907.

JESSE WARREN, Acting Mayor.
M. D. TIMBERLAKE, Acting Recorder.

Matchless Values

The large Stock of goods purchased for this season's business in New York City has arrived, is on display and ready for inspection. The stock this season is larger and better than at any time in history of the store, and in spite of the general increase in price our present stock has been purchased in a manner that will permit us to sell goods at retail at less than the present wholesale price, in many instances. We bought our goods eight months ago.

LADIES CLOAKS

We especially call your attention to our extra values in ladies' cloaks, ranging in price from $2.95 to $12.50 each. We believe we can satisfy the most exacting customer with these cloaks. Come to see us. Remember we guarantee our prices to be the lowest on the same grade of merchandise at all times. On account of our tremendous stock we are crowded for room and may not have every thing on display, but ask for what you want. PROGRESS OF CEMENT PLANT

Though it will be several weeks yet before the Oklahoma Portland Cement company's plant will be ready for operation, readers of The News will be gratified to know it is now in the "finishing touch" stage. A plant of its proportions is not builded in a day, nor a week, nor a month. Indeed, a year is scant time for its construction.

Secretary J. M. Wintersmith says the last car load of equipment for the plant is now on the road hither. This car terminates what railroad officials say is the biggest shipment of the sort ever handled in the southwest.

A Dream of Odor

Philosophers have mused over the subject of pleasing odors in their relation to the sense of smell, but have never determined just what the qualities are that appeal or why they appeal. We only know that people vary widely in what perfumes they ordinarily like. Once in a great while some combination of scents appears that charms every body.

is one of these. It is impossible to describe its piquant elusive charm, but you will be delighted with it. All odors in stock, 40c to $1.00 an ounce.

GAME LAW IN EFFECT SOON.

Sportsman Will Be Restrained by Oklahoma Statutes.

This fall sportsmen in the Indian Territory, for the first time, will have to submit to a game law. That law is the one now in force in Oklahoma and it has proved a very good statute. Under the terms of the enabling act, the laws of Oklahoma become effective in Indian Territory as soon as the constitution is adopted, and will remain in force until changed by the first legislature.

Under the Oklahoma law the quail season does not open until October 15. It closes the first day of February.

In the past Indian Territory has never had a game law. Sportsmen shot game whenever they felt like it and could find it. The only restraint was the law that prohibited game from being sold either in the Territory or out of it. This law was not very rigidly enforced until the last two years, when the Indian agent secured the cooperation of the express companies by an agreement from them that they would not accept for shipment any consignment of game from any point within the territory. The same has been true of big game. A good many deer have been killed, but confiscation whenever they were offered for sale has stopped their slaughter for market.

For several years there has been a big demand for live quail. Over in the southwestern part of the Territory in two or three counties this got to be a regular business, but last year the Indian agent, by special policemen, acting under rigid orders, succeeded in breaking up this practice, and thousands of quail were released after they had been captured in barrel nets attached to the station for shipment. Immediate and drastic punishment for the offenders broke up this practice. Most of the persistent offenders invented one excuse after another to get railroad companies to make the shipments the one that worked the longest being the representation that the person shipping the quail was sending them to the government experiment station. Twenty dozen quail were caught in one consignment by one policeman and the man who had trapped and tried to ship them was arrested.

Quails caught for market in this way are usually taken in nets. The net used consists of a long "barrel" that has a large open mouth and gradually diminishes in size, much like a fish net. There are wings about 18 from the sides of the barrel in a sort of V shape. The barrel is placed in a path or in among the undergrowth, where it is partially concealed by throwing grass or leaves over it. The wings stretch out on either side. In rainy weather when quail are reluctant to fly this sort of net is used. The hunters ride on horseback until a covey of quail is found. The quail are not afraid of a man on horseback and do not attempt to fly unless crowded. After the quails are located the net is placed, probably 100 yards away in the brush and undergrowth, and then the hunters return and gradually drive the quail into the wide open wings. When they strike the wings if they have not been frightened, they will run along the ground and right into the open mouth of the barrel and down into it while the hunters close in with a rush and prevent them coming out. If the hunters are lucky they will sometime catch a dozen coveys of quail in a day in this manner.

The fact that this practice has been broken up and that the sale of game has been stopped, added to the favorable season this year, has made vast numbers of quail in both territories this season. In the past sportsmen commenced shooting the birds almost before they were half grown, and this has hurt the sport, as they were killed off too early in the season. The game law coming into effect as it does this fall, will stop this to a large extent. Indian Territory has long felt the need of a good game law, and it is believed that it will be rigidly enforced by the new officers.

Sportsmen all over the Territory will ask for the appointment of a game warden just as soon as there is a law for it. The worst trouble will be the Indians, who are likely to resent any law that interferes with hunting at any and all seasons of the year.—Ex.

The Parisian Belts.

Parisians are wearing very elaborate leather belts, the leather being much tooled and gilded after the fashion of old bindings, having solid gold buckles. With an ingenious eye for effect, many women are wearing them back to front, and deep buckle coming in front, while the narrower one with its holes for adjusting, goes at the back. The plan gives a pretty sloping line to the waist. The striped leather belt is very fashionable for the moment. The belts are of white suede, and the stripes, about half an inch wide, run across. These have nothing at the back and are fastened in front with wide square or Byzantine buckle of bronze

NEW MEXICANS HAVE

STATEHOOD SCHEME.

Santa Fe, N. M., Oct. 7.—Practically unanimous sentiment exists throughout the territory in favor of preparing a tentative constitution to be submitted to congress as the fundamental law of the state of New Mexico. It is believed this plan would have the effect of hastening the passage of an enabling act granting sovereignty to the "sunshine territory."

Statehood clubs are being organized all over the territory, and the campaign for single statehood for New Mexico, which was launched about a month ago, is being made a non-partisan one. Leaders of both republican and democratic parties are working together in securing the boon on the principle of getting statehood first and fighting out the battle of the ballots for the state offices afterwards.

In support of the plan to have a constitution drafted in advance and presented to congress it is pointed out that a document of this kind bearing the indorsement of the entire people would be more apt to meet with favor of the national lawmaking body than an enabling act which would permit the voters of the territory to elect delegates charged with the duty of framing a basic law for the new state and requiring only the approval of the president, as was done in the bill admitting Oklahoma.

New Mexicans have proved their sincerity of purpose by the stand taken in the election last fall when the proposition of jointure with Arizona was voted upon and defeated only by the adverse vote of the sister territory. They cast a large majority in favor of joint statehood in deference to the wishes of congress and because they were anxious to secure statehood under any condition rather than longer remain under a territorial form of government even if by doing so they should lose the identity of their commonwealth. Since Arizona voted against jointure they feel that New Mexico is entitled to admission into the Union as a separate state.

Realizing the futility of Arizona being admitted as a state at the coming session of congress the Arizona press generally is doing the neighborly act by advocating the early admission of New Mexico with the object in view evidently of thwarting any future attempt at jointure of the two territories.

Umbrella Vails.

Umbrella vails, which are said to be very smart in Paris, are large circles of net in little dotted patterns with an edge of the lace or scallops of Chenille.

OWL BIRD OF GOOD OMEN!

One Perches Over Door of Secretary Filson at Guthrie.

Guthrie, O. T., Oct. 7.—That the results of the election count by the state canvassing board will be satisfactory to all became evident to those who visited the territorial offices today. Perched over the door casing of Secretary Filson's office and, exactly in the center where the folds of two American flags overlapped, sat a little prairie owl blinking wisdom from his member of the canvass board half closed eyes. As Mr. Filson is a member of the state canvass board he considered this a good omen. The little gray wisacre had previously taken his place over the doorways of Territorial Treasurer Rambo and Territorial Auditor Dyche only to find himself unwelcome and to be driven to another resting place.

When Mr. Rambo came to his office this morning he found the owl perched over the door casing of his office. Mr. Rambo, feeling that the nocturnal bird might arouse suspicions of dark practice, "shooed" the bird away with his handkerchief.

C. C. McCabe, the colored assistant auditor, who at one time held an elective state office in Kansas, was in the hallway and saw the owl fly over the doorway of the auditor's office and take majestic possession. McCabe, although highly educated, considered this an ill omen of the political decapitation which is awaiting the territorial officers and to which they have already resigned themselves. Being something of a soothsayer and astrologer, however, Secretary Filson believes that since the doors of three members of the state canvassing board which comprise a working quorum under the enabling act, have been adorned by a living and ancient symbol of wisdom Governor-elect Haskell and his democratic copatriots have no grounds to fear an unwise and unjust count of the election returns next Tuesday.

RACE PROBLEM AT TULSA.

Negroes Desire to Live in Wards Among the Whites.

Tulsa, I. T., Oct. 5.—Tulsa is confronted with a race problem of no mean proportions. The white citizens of the Fourth ward have posted notices in the various parts of the ward that no negroes shall be permitted to live in the ward, and that any persons of color who violate this will be summarily dealt with.

The trouble arose when a property owner who desired to leave for Mexico and offered his property for sale received a tempting offer from a negro. The contract for sale was drawn up. A meeting of residents was held and a notice sent to the negroes that they would not be permitted to live in the ward, and another notice was sent to the man about to leave that no sale should be made.

To preclude any further action by the negroes the residents posted great signs in the most conspicuous places in the ward notifying the negroes that they would not be allowed to occupy homes in that section.

Last evening an indignation meeting was held by the negroes in the north side of the city. The matter was thoroughly discussed, but no action was taken. Feeling is high on the subject and it is feared that trouble will follow.

Tulsa has a negro population of 1,500, who are at the present time quartered almost exclusively in the First Ward. Several of the negroes are rich and desire to live in the better portions of the city. The whites are determined that they shall not.

Tea Bath for Eyes.

Few practices are more beneficial to the conditions of the eyes than is bathing them regularly every night before going to bed. Dust readily accumulates on the lids between the lashes and causes them to smart, an excellent method of cleaning them being the old-fashioned one of dabbing the lids with a piece of cotton wool dipped in cold weak tea.

AMERICAN COTTON IS KING

The World Watches the Crop of the South---Manufactures and Growers Discuss Handling and Production.

Atlanta, Ga., Oct. 8.—Men who grow cotton and men who manufacture it into clothes and other goods for the markets of the world met in the state capitol Monday in the international conference of cotton growers and manufacturers. During the three days' session of the conference questions of the utmost importance to growers and consumers will be discussed and action is looked for that will radically change for the better methods of handling and growing the great staple of the south.

Fully five hundred delegates were present when President James H. MacColl of Providence, R. I., called the meeting to order. Former President Arthur Kuttler of Vienna, Austria, and delegates from Great Britain, Germany, Belgium, France and Spain being in the audience.

President MacColl said in his opening address: "One important object which those of us who are Americans, whether growers or spinners, have in view, is to determine to our European friends who consume two-thirds of the crop of the wonderful resources yet undeveloped an enormous saving in transportation and insurance, and enable the overburdened railroads to move more expeditiously the ever increasing crop.

"The proper marketing of cotton should be insisted upon. The cotton world needs a uniform bill of lading, which states authenticated facts regarding shipments and affords adequate protection to the owners of the cotton and the banks that help to finance the crop.

"I am heartily in sympathy with the report recently issued by a committee of the New York cotton exchange on the certification of cotton in southern warehouses and improved classification as to grade and staple. This would, in my opinion, tend to control speculation and at the same time make the New York contract more serviceable to spinners both as a hedge and for actual consumption."

Mr. MacColl urged that the most important thing that the conference could accomplish would be the formation of a permanent international organization of growers and spinners.

Dead Claim Deed Upheld.

Muskogee, I. T., Oct. 8.—A. A. Davidson, master in chancery for the western judicial district, has held in the Archie Tiger case that full-blood Indians can sell land which they have inherited without first securing the removal of restrictions. This is an important question in land titles. A full-blood Indian can not sell the land that is "allotted" to him for 25 years, but practically all of the inherited lands, generally known as dead claims, have been bought by white men. The attorney for Archie Tiger tried to have a deed to a dead claim to which Tiger was heir set aside on the theory that the Indian was not entitled to sell the inherited property.

The Store Where QUALITY Stands for Something.

oped in the southern states of the production of the raw material. We want them to see for themselves that America will grow all the cotton that the world needs; on the other hand it is desirable for the growers by personal contact with the spinners to realize that if they are to maintain their supremacy, there must be a forward movement in the direction of the removal of so-called abuses that now exist in the growing, handling and marketing of their products. The planter if he wants to sell direct to the spinners, must in some way do the work for the middleman and have the same financial responsibility. He must grade, carry and finance the cotton as the merchant now does.

"All admit that the time has now come for definite suggestion and prompt action to effect needed reforms. To this end we should discuss gin compressing, which would effect

ered an address of welcome. C. W. MacAra, chairman of the executive committee of the International Federation, the Master Cotton Spinners and Manufacturers association and president of the English Master Cotton Spinners' Federation, and vice president of the international conference, responded. Mr. MacAra said in part:

"The American cotton crop plays such an important part in the supply of the world's needs, that operations which affect it practically affect the entire cotton crop of the world and when consideration is given to the fact that the raising or reducing of the annual average price by illegitimate speculation by even one cent a pound represents $30,000,000 it must be obvious that it is time that some determined effort is made to rid the industry of this unnecessary burden. It has been the aim of all manufacturers for many years to reduce the cost of production by taking full advantage of science and invention, and great economies have been effected. I think it would be well if this example were followed by the growers of our raw material."

All the officers of the international conference were re-elected.

ALLEN LANDS RAILROAD.

Enterprising Pontotoc Town Clinches the M. O. & G.

Our neighbor town of Allen, which bears the distinction of being the best inland town in the southwest, now has a railroad clinched.

Such is the news M. B. Donaghey brings back from Allen, where on Monday he co-operated in closing the deal with the M. O. & G. officials. In approaching Allen from Calvin the road as now projected, runs through Mr. Donaghey's farm for 1 3/4 miles, the right of way for which distance Mr. Donaghey donated.

It is settled, he says, that the depot will be located 1,500 feet north of the town's business center. This means the old town will not be moved, rumors to the contrary notwithstanding, and all of Allen's future taxable wealth will be within the boundaries of Pontotoc county.

As surveyed the line of this new road approaches no nearer than 12 miles to Ada. The officials are eager to reach Ada, says Mr. Donaghey, and hope to do so, but consider it impracticable save by means of a spur.

Today's Cotton Market.

New York spots 11.35, 5 points off; New Orleans 11 1/2 and unchanged. Futures: New York 3 to 5 points down; New Orleans 1 point down. Ada street prices 11.50 to 12 cents. Fair receipts.

Putting Up Heaters.

These frosty mornings are bringing out the heaters in great numbers. In many offices and stores fresh polished stoves and cherry fires were to be found this morning—and the fire didn't feel bad.

THE MAN WHO MAKES GOOD.

By John Anderson Jayne

You may not be able to distinguish the man who makes good when he is walking down the street with thousands of his fellow citizens. But the moment you step into the office where he is employed, the factory in which he works, the church in which he preaches, or the bedside by which he practices, you recognize him at once. He may be a little, insignificant-looking fellow, but there is a breezy manner about him that compels attention. He may weigh like Taft but you forget his obesity in his ability to make the wheels go round. He has a swing and a step born of accomplishment. He is neither gay gaudy nor garrulous. He is neither sleepy, sloppy nor slimy. He is manly, manly and methodical. He knows when where and why. He has the happy faculty of arriving at exactly the right time and place. When he lands, he lands squarely with both feet pointing forward.

The man who makes good is master of the situation. He is not compelled to ask privileges or make apologies in order to hold his position. He is not treated as an inferior by those who hold more responsible positions paying larger salaries for these men know that he is using the usual talents of mankind to the accomplishment of usual work. Unusual mental power unused does not equal usual mental power, used. The man who makes good never whines. He is never compelled to do the baby act or work the sympathetic racket.

His work speaks for itself. It is the testimony of the faithful fidelity of a conscientious worker.

The man who makes good is not content to rest on past accomplishment. Every act of making good is an incentive to further attempts in the same direction. The past therefore gives impetus in the present and strength for the days that are to come.

The man who makes good is always in demand. He need not worry about positions. If through necessity he must make a change, other men in the same line are only too glad to give him employment. There is only one class of people who should be compelled to hunt for work—those young men who have not yet had opportunity to make good and show their worth to employers who will appreciate their ability in the work that is congenial to their taste.

The majority of men who knock from pillar to post are men who failed to make good in the days when the currents of life flowed swiftly in their veins.

Every once in a while you hear a man of sixty and upward called to the superintendency of some business establishment or tendered a position where brains are required rather than muscles. Such a call is a living witness to the truth. In the days of youth he made good.

When you hear of men complaining that they have no chance, explaining they are life's unfortunate, sitting down and letting children support them, you may hang it on your walls as a truth that they have wasted life in querulous insubordinate impatience or have not used their brains for the men for whom they worked in the days of opportunity. There is no necromancy about life. It proceeds on definite and prescribed rules. Obey laws and accomplish practical results. He who obeys life's law need not fear long, cold, barren and unproductive years between sixty and eighty. Take time to study the lives of men who have not made good. You will find they failed to lay strong foundations of education, missed opportunities and esteemed selfish interests and pleasure of more moment than employers' work. The man who makes good knows that his employer has a right to every minute of his time, his best work, his highest endeavor. He does not watch the clock. He does not dally. With him the greatest thing during the working hours is his employer's interest. The man who works in that spirit never fails to make good.

Special Days at the State Fair.

Among the special days to be at the fair will be found one for the various organizations seeking a reunion date. Those decided upon are as follows:

Tuesday, October 8—This is College day. On this day there will be a program arranged specially for the college visitors. Prof. A. C. Scott, president of the A and M College of Stillwater will deliver the address to the college people at the Music hall at 10:30 in the morning. There will be a football game in the afternoon between the Edwards university of Oklahoma

MEETING OF CITY COUNCIL

Taxes Levied for Another Year--7 1-2 Mills for the Schools---Printing Contract Awarded---Man Wants Franchise for a Sewerage System.

It took the city council a good while Monday night to get together, but when once a quorum was secured several important items of business were transacted.

Mayor Barton being out of town, Recorder Warren presided, and councilman Timberlake was, as usual, elected recorder pro tem. After E. W. Hardin, the new alderman from the Fourth, was sworn in the aldermen present numbered six.

The report of the finance committee which passed on favorably $775 worth of bills was adopted.

The committee on printing, to which had been referred the competitive bids of Ada's two newspapers on the city printing for the coming year reported recommending that the bid of The News be accepted. Upon a vote of the council The News was awarded the contract with but one dissenting vote.

An ordinance levying city taxes for another year was passed to its second and third readings and all opposition to the terms of the measure having been withdrawn the rules were suspended and by unanimous vote the ordinance was adopted. According to its provisions a levy of 7 1-2 mills is made for general purposes, 7 1-2 mills for the public schools, and 7 1-2 mills for the sinking fund.

It is a matter of regret to the council that it was impossible to grant more than 7 1-2 mills to the schools. Last year 10 mills were given them, the most liberal allowance for schools in our municipal history. But this year the new waterworks bonds have made an increase in the sinking fund imperative.

However, the school board think they will be able to get along with the 7 1-2 mills without seriously crippling the schools. They probably will have to borrow some money, but that can be done as it has been done before. At present the school debt is not large, and by another year, when all city real estate becomes taxable the taxable values will be swollen up to near the two million point and all funds can more easily be provided for.

Again the now notorious gunpowder and gasoline ordinance came up for consideration. It is thought the measure will pass at the next meeting.

A communication was read from an Oklahoma party who seeks a sewerage franchise in the city. He proposes in return for the franchise to donate at the end of fifteen years the whole system to the city. A committee was charged with the duty of investigating the man and his proposition.

RAILROADS MAY HAVE TO PAY UP BACK TAXES

Muskogee, I. T., Oct. 8.—The department of the interior has scolded upon the railroads in Indian Territory for a statement of the number of miles of road they own that is subject to the annual tax of $15 per mile for passing through Indian lands.

This law was passed in order to create a sort of permit tax several years ago. Some of the railroads have paid the tax regularly and some have never paid a cent. It is supposed that under statehood the permit tax will be invalidated and a settlement in full is about due. Commissioner George Wright is gathering the data and has also asked the department for a local opinion as to when the permit tax expires. Some of the railroads claim that it could not be legally collected after the Indians took their allotments. There are nearly 3,000 miles of railroad in Indian Territory.

Will Contest Davenport.

Muskogee, I. T., Oct. 8.—F. C. Hubbard, defeated by J. S. Davenport of Vinola for congress has announced that he will contest Davenport before congress itself. Davenport is a democrat and his majority over Hubbard in the Third District was 2,117. Hubbard will not institute a contest in a single county but will attempt to make a showing before a republican congress which he thinks will give him the coveted place.

State Fair Train.

To accommodate the increased passenger traffic stimulated by the state fair now in progress at Oklahoma City, the M. K. & T. will put on an extra train Wednesday morning, and keep it on until the fair closes. It will leave Ada going north about 8 a. m.

If taken patiently and persistently will relieve the most obstinate cases of indigestion, constipation, bad blood, bad liver, no matter how long standing. That's what Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea will do. 35 cents, Tea or Tablets.

G. M. RAMSEY.

Officers-Elect Will Confer.

Pontotoc county's officers-elect will meet in an informal conference at the court house in Ada Thursday morning, October 10.

The object of their coming together is to make some preliminary arrangements for the organization of the county government, so that with the coming of statehood and the passing of the old territorial regime, which may occur now most any old day, there may result neither hiatus nor confusion in the local governmental machinery.

Among the important things to consider are a temporary court house and office supplies for the various officers. Record books and official blanks will be a necessity from the very start, therefore it was wise to arrange for these at once—such stuff can not be created in a moment.

Will Not Disturb Retarus.

Muskogee, I. T., Oct. 8.—Judge W. R. Lawrence sustained a demurrer to the action brought by the defeated republican candidates of Muskogee county, asking a writ of mandamus to force the county election commissioners to recount the vote in this county, thus giving all county offices to democrats.

Ordinance No. 134.

An ordinance levying taxes for various purposes for the City of Ada, Ind. Ter., for the year 1907.

Be it ordained by the City Council of the City of Ada, Ind. Ter.

Section 1. That an ad valorem tax of five mills on the dollar be levied upon all property subject to taxation in the City of Ada, Ind. Ter. for general purposes for the year 1907.

Section 2. That an ad valorem tax of seven and one half mills on the dollar be levied upon all property subject to taxation in the City of Ada, Ind. Ter. for school purposes for the year 1907.

Section 3. That an ad valorem tax of seven and one half mills on the dollar be levied upon all property subject to taxation in the City of Ada, Ind. Ter. for the purpose of paying the interest on and creating a proper sinking fund for the redemption of the bonded indebtedness of the City of Ada, Ind. Ter., for the year 1907.

Section 4. That this Ordinance be in full force and effect from and after its passage, approval and publication. Passed and approved this 7th day of October, 1907.

Matchless Values

The large stock of goods purchased for this season's business in New York City has arrived, is on display and ready for inspection. The stock this season is larger and better than at any time in history of the store, and in spite of the general increase in price our present stock has been purchased in a manner that will permit us to sell goods at retail at less than the present wholesale price, in many instances. We bought our goods eight months ago.

LADIES CLOAKS

We especially call your attention to our extra values in ladies' cloaks, ranging in price from $2.95 to $12.50 each. We believe we can satisfy the most exacting customer with these cloaks. Come to see us. Remember we guarantee our prices to be the lowest on the same grade of merchandise at all times. On account of our tremendous stock we are crowded for room and may not have every thing on display but ask for what you want. In nine cases out of ten we will have just exactly what you think will be hard to find in a town the size of Ada.

Though it will be several weeks yet before the Oklahoma Portland Cement company's plant will be ready for operation, readers of The News will be gratified to know it is now in the "finishing touch" stage. A plant of its proportions is not builded in a day nor a week, nor a month. Indeed, a year is scant time for its construction.

Secretary J. M. Wintersmith says the last car load of equipment for the plant is now on the road hither. This car terminates what railroad officials say is the biggest shipment of the sort ever handled in the southwest. Along about Thanksgiving Ada must hold a great jubilee over the completion of the new waterworks and the cement factory.

GAME LAW IN EFFECT SOON.

Sportsman Will Be Restrained by Oklahoma Statutes.

This fall sportsmen in the Indian Territory, for the first time, will have to submit to a game law. That law is the one now in force in Oklahoma and it has proved a very good statute. Under the terms of the enabling act the laws of Oklahoma become effective in Indian Territory as soon as the constitution is adopted and will remain in force until changed by the first legislature.

Under the Oklahoma law the quail season does not open until October 1. It closes the first day of February.

In the past Indian Territory has never had a game law. Sportsmen shot game whenever they felt like it and could find it. The only restraint was the law that prohibited game from being sold either in the Territory or out of it. This law was not very rigidly enforced until the last two years when the Indian agent secured the cooperation of the express companies by an agreement from them that they would not accept for shipment any consignment of game from any point within the territory. The same has been true of big game. A good many deer have been killed but confiscation whenever they were offered for sale has stopped their slaughter for market.

For several years there has been a big demand for live quail. Over in the southwestern part of the Territory in two or three counties this got to be a regular business but last year the Indian agent by special policemen, acting under rigid orders, succeeded in breaking up this practice and thousands of quail were released after they had been captured in barrel nets and taken to the station for shipment. Immediate and drastic punishment for the offenders broke up this practice. Most of the persistent offenders invented one excuse after another to get railroad companies to make the shipments the one that worked the longest being the representation that the person shipping the quail was sending them to the government experiment station. Twenty dozen quail were caught in one consignment by one policeman and the man who had trapped and tried to ship them was arrested.

Quails caught for market in this way are usually taken in nets. The net used consists of a long "barrel" that has a large open mouth and gradually diminishes in size, much like a fish net. There are wings about 18

from the sides of the barrel in a sort of V shape. The barrel is placed in a path or in among the undergrowth where it is partially concealed by throwing grass or leaves over it. The wings stretch out on either side. In rainy weather when quail are reluctant to fly this sort of net is used. The hunters ride on horseback until a covey of quail is found. The quail are not afraid of a man on horseback and do not attempt to fly unless crowded. After the quails are located the net is placed probably 100 yards away in the brush and undergrowth and then the hunters return and gradually drive the quail into the wide open wings. When they strike the wings if they have not been frightened they will run along the ground and right into the open mouth of the barrel and down into it while the hunters close in with a rush and prevent them coming out. If the hunters are lucky they will sometimes catch a dozen coveys of quail in a day. In this manner.

The fact that this practice has been broken up and that the sale of game has been stopped, added to the favorable season this year has made vast numbers of quail in both territories this season. In the past sportsmen commenced shooting the birds almost before they were half grown and this has hurt the sport as they were killed off too early in the season. The game law coming into effect as it does this fall will stop this to a large extent. Indian Territory has long felt the need of a good game law and it is believed that it will be rigidly enforced by the new officers.

Sportsmen all over the Territory will ask for the appointment of a game warden just as soon as there is a law for it. The worst trouble will be the Indians, who are likely to resent any law that interferes with hunting at any and all seasons of the year. --F.

The Parisian Belts.

Parisians are wearing very elaborate leather belts. The leather being much tooled and gilded after the fashion of old bindings, having solid gold buckles. With an ingenious eye for effect many women are wearing them back to front and deep buckle coming in front while the narrower one with its holes for adjusting goes at the back. The plan gives a pretty sloping line to the waist. The striped leather belt is very fashionable for the moment. The belts are of white suede, and the stripes, about half an inch wide, run across. These have nothing at the back and are fastened in front with wide square or Byzantine buckle of bronze or gold.

NEW MEXICANS HAVE STATEHOOD SCHEME.

Santa Fe, N. M., Oct. 7.—Practically unanimous sentiment exists throughout the territory in favor of preparing a tentative constitution to be submitted to congress as the fundamental law of the state of New Mexico. It is believed this plan would have the effect of hastening the passage of an enabling act granting sovereignty to the sunshine territory.

Statehood clubs are being organized all over the territory and the campaign for single statehood for New Mexico, which was launched about a month ago is being made a non-partisan one. Leaders of both republican and democratic parties are working together in securing the boon on the principle of getting statehood first and fighting out the battle of the ballots for the state officers afterwards.

In support of the plan to have a constitution drafted in advance and presented to congress it is pointed out that a document of this kind bearing the endorsement of the entire people would be more apt to meet with favor of the national lawmaking body than an enabling act which would permit the voters of the territory to elect delegates charged with the duty of framing a basic law for the new state and requiring only the approval of the president as was done in the bill admitting Oklahoma.

New Mexicans have moved their sincerity of purpose by the stand taken in the election last fall when the proposition of jointure with Arizona was voted upon and defeated only by the adverse vote of the sister territory. They cast a large majority in favor of joint statehood in deference to the wishes of congress and because they were anxious to secure statehood under any condition rather than longer remain under a territorial form of government even if by doing so they should lose the identity of their commonwealth. Since Arizona voted against jointure they feel that New Mexico is entitled to admission into the Union as a separate state.

Realizing the futility of Arizona being admitted as a state at the coming session of congress the Arizona press generally is doing the neighborly act by advocating the early admission of New Mexico with the object in view evidently of thwarting any future attempt at jointure of the two territories.

Umbrella Vells.

Umbrella vells, which are said to be very smart in Paris, are large circles of net in little dotted patterns with an edge of the lace or scalloped of Chenille.

OWL BIRD OF GOOD OMENT

One Perches Over Door of Secretary Filson at Gulbrie.

Gulbrie, O., Oct. 7.—That the results of the election come by the state canvassing board will be satisfactory to all became evident to those who visited the territorial offices today. Perched over the door casing of Secretary Filson's office and exactly in the center where the folds of two American flags overlapped sat a little purple owl blinking wisdom from his member of the canvass board hid his half closed eyes. As Mr. Filson is a member of the state canvass board he considered this a good omen. The little gray wise bird had previously taken his place over the doorways of Territorial Treasurer Rambo and Territorial Auditor Dyche only to find himself unwelcome and to be driven to another building place.

When Mr. Rambo came to his office this morning he found the owl perched over the door casing of his office. Mr. Rambo, feeling that the nocturnal bird might arouse suspicions of dark practice, shooed the bird away with his handkerchief.

C. C. McCabe, the colored assistant auditor who at one time held an elective state office in Kansas, was in the hallway and saw the owl fly over the doorway of the auditor's office and take majestic possession. McCabe, although highly educated, considered this an ill omen of the political decapitation which is awaiting the territorial officers and to which they have already resigned themselves. Being something of a soothsayer and astrologer, however, Secretary Filson believes that since the doors of three members of the state canvassing board which comprise a working quorum under the enabling act have been adorned by a living and ancient symbol of wisdom Governor-elect Haskell and his democratic coparties have no grounds to fear an unwise and unjust count of the election returns next Tuesday.

RACE PROBLEM AT FULSA.

Negroes Desire to Live in Wards Among the Whites.

Fulsa, I. T., Oct. 5.—Fulsa is confronted with a race problem of no mean proportions. The white citizens of the Fourth ward have posted notices in the various parts of the ward that no negroes shall be permitted to live in the ward, and that any persons of color who violate this will be summarily dealt with.

The trouble arose when a property

owner who desired to leave for Mexico and offered his property for sale received a tempting offer from a negro. The contract for sale was drawn up. A meeting of residents was held and a notice sent to the negroes that they would not be permitted to live in the ward and another notice was sent to the man about to leave that no sale should be made.

To preclude any further action by the negroes the residents posted great signs in the most conspicuous places in the ward notifying the negroes that they would not be allowed to occupy homes in that section.

Last evening in indignation meeting was held by the negroes in the north side of the city. The matter was hotly discussed but no action was taken. Feeling is high on the subject and it is feared that trouble will follow.

Ten Bath for Eyes.

Few practices are more beneficial to the conditions of the eyes than is bathing them regularly every night before going to bed. Dust readily accumulates on the lids between the lashes and causes them to smart. An excellent method of cleaning them being the old-fashioned one of dabbing the lids with a piece of cotton wool dipped in cold weak tea.

Gigantic Plaids.

Enormous plaid designs are shown in the latest silks. The colors are tartan and milder blendings and the size of some is fully six inches square. Seasonal prophecies indicate they will be manufactured into waists. The giddiness of their proportions subdued by pleatings of plain colored silk.

ON THE

Life of Christ

A Cast Including CHRIST, His Disciples, Pilate, King Herod and all Ancient Characters Implicated with Illustrating the Life of Our Savior from the Birth to the Ascension, as played at the last presentation in Ober-Ammergau, Bavaria.

This play is produced but once in ten years and is the sole survivor of those mystic plays, or Religious Dramas, which were in full vogue during the middle ages in Germany, France, Italy, Spain and England. It costs hundreds of thousands of dollars to produce the play and people go from all over the world to see it.

AMERICAN COTTON IS KING A Little Philosophy

The World Watches the Crop of the South---Manufactures and Growers Discuss Handling and Production.

Atlanta, Ga., Oct. 8.—Men who grow cotton and men who manufacture it into clothes and other goods for the markets of the world met in the state capitol Monday in the international conference of cotton growers and manufacturers. During the three days' session of the conference questions of the utmost importance to growers and consumers will be discussed and action is looked for that will radically change for the better methods of handling and growing the great staple of the south.

Fully five hundred delegates were present when President James H. MacColl of Providence, R. I., called the meeting to order, former President Arthur Kniffler of Vienna, Austria, and delegates from Great Britain, Germany, Belgium, France and Spain being in the audience.

President MacColl said in his opening address: "One important object which those of us who are Americans, whether growers or spinners, have in view, is to determine to our European friends who consume two-thirds of the crop of the wonderful resources yet undeveloped an enormous saving in transportation and insurance, and enable the overburdened railroads to move more expeditiously the ever increasing crop.

"The proper marketing of cotton should be insisted upon. The cotton world needs a uniform bill of lading, which states authenticated facts regarding shipments and affords adequate protection to the owners of the cotton and the banks that help to finance the crop.

"I am heartily in sympathy with the report recently issued by a committee of the New York cotton exchange on the certification of cotton in southern warehouses and improved classification as to grade and staple. This would, in my opinion, tend to control speculation and at the same time make the New York contract more serviceable to spinners both as a hedge and for actual consumption."

Mr. MacColl urged that the most important thing that the conference could accomplish would be the formation of a permanent international organization of growers and spinners. Gov. Hoke Smith of Georgia deliv-

Dead Claim Deed Upheld.

Muskogee, I. T., Oct. 8.—A. A. Davidson, master in chancery for the western judicial district, has held in the Archie Tiger case that full-blood Indians can sell land which they have inherited without first securing the removal of restrictions. This is an important question in land titles. A full-blood Indian can not sell the land that is "allotted" to him for 25 years, but practically all of the inherited lands, generally known as dead claims, have been bought by white men. The attorney for Archie Tiger tried to have a deed to a dead claim to which Tiger was heir set aside on the theory that the Indian was not entitled to sell the inherited property.

production by taking full advantage of science and invention, and great economies have been effected. I think it would be well if this example were followed by the growers of our raw material."

ALLEN LANDS RAILROAD.

Enterprising Pontotoc Town Clutches the M. O. & G.

Our neighbor town of Allen, which bears the distinction of being the best inland town in the southwest, now has a railroad clinched.

Such is the news M. B. Donaghey brings back from Allen, where on Monday he co-operated in closing the deal with the M. O. & G. officials. In approaching Allen from Calvin the road as now projected, runs through Mr. Donaghey's farm for 1 3/4 miles, the right of way for which distance Mr. Donaghey donated.

It is settled, he says, that the depot will be located 1,800 feet north of the town's business center. This means the old town will not be moved, rumors to the contrary notwithstanding, and all of Allen's future taxable wealth will be within the boundaries of Pontotoc county.

As surveyed the line of this new road approaches no nearer than 12 miles to Ada. The officials are eager to reach Ada, says Mr. Donaghey, and hope to do so, but consider it impracticable save by means of a spur.

Today's Cotton Market.

New York spots 11.35, 5 points off; New Orleans 11 1/2 and unchanged. Futures: New York 3 to 5 points down; New Orleans 1 point down. Ada street prices 11.90 to 12 cents. Fair receipts.

Putting Up Heaters.

These frosty mornings are bringing out the heaters in great numbers. In many offices and stores fresh polished stoves and cherry fires were to be found this morning—and the fire didn't feel bad.

oped in the southern states of the production of the raw material. We want them to see for themselves that America will grow all the cotton that the world needs; on the other hand it is desirable for the growers by personal contact with the spinners to realize that if they are to maintain their supremacy, there must be a forward movement in the direction of the removal of so-called abuses that now exist in the growing, handling and marketing of their products. The planter, if he wants to sell direct to the spinners, must in some way do the work for the middleman and have the same financial responsibility. He must grade, cur and finance the cotton as the merchant now does.

"All admit that the time has now come for definite suggestion and prompt action to effect needed reforms. To this end we should discuss in compressing, which would effect

ered an address of welcome. C. W. MacAra, chairman of the executive committee of the International Federation, the Master Cotton Spinners and Manufacturers association and president of the English Master Cotton Spinners' Federation, and vice president of the international conference, respond. Mr. MacAra said in part:

"The American cotton crop plays such an important part in the supply of the world's needs, that operations which affect it practically affect the entire cotton crop of the world and when consideration is given to the fact that the raising or reducing of the annual average price by illegitimate speculation by even one cent a pound, represents $80,000,000 it must be obvious that it is time that some determined effort is made to rid the industry of this unnecessary burden. It has been the aim of all manufacturers for many years to reduce the cost of

Matchless Values

The large stock of goods purchased for this season's business in New York City has arrived, is on display and ready for inspection. The stock this season is larger and better than at any time in history of the store, and in spite of the general increase in price our present stock has been purchased in a manner that will permit us to sell goods at retail at less than the present wholesale price, in many instances. We bought our goods eight months ago.

LADIES CLOAKS

We especially call your attention to our extra values in ladies' cloaks, ranging in price from $2.95 to $12.50 each. We believe we can satisfy the most exacting customer with these cloaks. Come to see us. Remember we guarantee our prices to be the lowest on the same grade of merchandise at all times. On account of our tremendous stock we are crowded for room and may not have every thing on display but ask for what you want. In nine cases out of ten we will have just exactly what you think will be hard to find in a town the size of Ada.

PROGRESS OF CEMENT PLANT

Though it will be several weeks yet before the Oklahoma Portland Cement company's plant will be ready for operation, readers of The News will be gratified to know it is now in the "finishing touch" stage. A plant of its proportions is not built in a day nor a week, nor a month. Indeed, a year is scant time for its construction. Secretary J. M. Wintersmith says the last car load of equipment for the plant is now on the road hither. This car terminates what railroad officials say is the biggest shipment of the sort ever handled in the southwest. Along about Thanksgiving Ada must hold a great jubilee over the completion of the new waterworks and the cement factory.
